A Walk in the Past

Stairs

Ceiling Planed Barking Board and
Hand Hewn Beam

Over the past centuries nature took its time as it grew many fine and varied species of trees. Then it gave each of these glorious trees their own natural beauty in their distinctive wood grain. This gift of timeless and matchless beauty is still here for us to enjoy today.

These trees were originally harvested over a hundred years ago by early pioneer settlers, who knew that their strength and versatility would serve them well. Those pioneers found the woods practical and ideal for building their homes, barns and mills. After having aged for a century or more in the form of beams planks and floors in Canada's early buildings, we arrange to re-harvest these treasures. The past comes alive as we re-mill these retrieved materials and make it possible for you to Walk in the Past when you install our antique flooring in your home.

Have you dreamed of restoring a century home, or perhaps building a new one using genuine antique building materials to create that ambience of age? Or maybe you are looking for the warm and cozy feeling of Grandma's country home? Whatever your needs are, we offer as wide a variety of antique woods as possible to help you capture the warmth and beauty of the past. You can fill your home with the quiet elegance that can only be obtained by bringing these magnificent gifts of nature into your rooms as floors, cupboards and antique furniture reproductions.

In order to provide our customers with the best quality wood possible, we search across Ontario for buildings that are on the verge of collapse or that are no longer suitable for contemporary use. Locked within these structures is not only the beauty of wood grain, but also the rich patina that has taken decades to develop and that cannot be duplicated artificially. Our trained crews carefully disassemble these buildings removing the boards and timbers that are sound. Every piece of wood is then carefully examined, de-nailed, trimmed, checked for any undesirable conditions and put into storage.

The boards are kept dry and either sold in their original condition or milled to your specifications. You may purchase the lumber rough, planed or tongue and grooved. If you delight in making antique furniture reproductions, we can mill the lumber to your exact specifications. One thing is certain, all of our lumber is genuinely antique and the patina is authentic. This means that you and yours will continue to enjoy your investment for generations to come.

West Lincoln Barnboard & Beams Limited has been in business since 1968. It all began when we provided antique lumber for a hotel in downtown St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada. They wished to have a rustic entrance, lobby and bar area, and our antique lumber perfectly satisfied their requirements. The barnboards, hand hewn beams and rough pine floors created immediate attention and since then the demand has continued growing. You have the assurance that we can provide your needs on time, give you the best quality and surpass any of your expectations. Our many satisfied customers from coast to coast testify to our experience and success in making the past come alive by bringing these retrieved treasures back to life. May West Lincoln Barnboard & Beams assist you in making your dream come true.
